Business was the watchword from the ening until the end of the meeting, and before night an active organization of about 200 real estate agents in Indiana, Hitnois, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, Indian Territory, Arkansas, Texas and Louisiana was perfected. At $29 p. m. about fifty of these forerunners of immigration departed the Iron Mountain for a trip to Little Rock and up the new White River branch

While the Missouri Pacific is the last railroad company to organize an immigration company or association slong the lines which were adopted yesterday, the boom and hurrah which attended its initial gathering showed the thoroughness that should characterize good business.

Prairie land, mountain orchard country. snamp districts, timber tracts and all of the other varieties of agricultural territory were represented by the men who had assembled to assist each other in getting customers to move from the overcrowded and thigh-priced sections of the North and East the cheaper and more fertile lands south and west of St. Louis,

OBJECTS OF THE BUREAU. One of the great obstacles to immigration is the tendency which sharpers have to misrepresent lands and "gobble" commissions. By organizing an immigration bureau the railroads seek to control the real estate agents, and protect them by forming an association, which practically insures the fair division of commissions between se originating business and those who sell the land to immigrants.

The Missouri Pacific Bureau has a clause in its by-laws which provides that any member who does not split commissions shall be excluded from the association and furnished by the railroad. During the past three years the Missouri Pacific has built many extensions into country that has been exploited very little. It is to the benefit of the rullroad, as well as to the agents, to have this country opened to settlement and the transportation of agricultural products begun in the volume that characterizes the older sections. A long line of freight cars, most of which belonged to the Missouri Pacific system, were being taken westward on Poplar street. An engine in front and one in the rear furnished the motive power.

The front end of the train had crossed the crest of the incline which slopes toward the river from Broadway, when a coupling pin snapped near the center of the train.

The engineer at the front end signaled when suddenly the train broke again near he front engine, and the cars started down

NO APPARENT OPPOSITION TO RUBEY'S NOMINATION.

Lieutenant Governor Receives Con gratulations of Politiciaus on His Prospects.

Lieutenant Governor Thomas L. Rubey of La Plata is in the city over Sunday on private business. No one has appeared to challenge his right to a nomination for the office which he now holds, and the politicians yesterday were congratulating him on his prospects.

Former Senator E. W. Majors of Bowling Green, candidate for Attorney General, was also at the Laclede. He is the only avowed candidate for the office, though several others are "figuring."

"If I could live up to the resolution which I made in one hour during the flood in Kansas City, I would be the most perfect man in Missouri," said Representative Arthur Chapman at the Laclede last night. Chapman was a leader of the Fliipinos in the last session of the General Assembly. He is in the city on private business.

"On the first Sunday of the flood," continued Mr. Chapman, "I was in a boat near the stock yards, which got caught in a sudden current. We bumped against a house and then against a telephone pole. I hung there, jammed against the pole by the swift water for an hour, expecting to be torn loose at any minute. Before a rope was thrown to me from a second-story window near by. I was a reformed man, and am glad to be alive now." which I made in one hour during the flood Widow of Physician Who Died of Apoplexy on Steamer Aurania Alarmed Over Letters.

WRITER IS SAID TO BE INSANE.

James Hamilton Declares He Is the Husband of Mrs. George Law, and Seeks Revenge for Wrongs.

New York, June 26-Mrs. I. N. Love, the widow of Doctor L. N. Love, who died suddenly on the steamship Aurania on June 18, has been receiving threatening letters of late at her apartments in the Nevada Hotel, Sixty-ninth and Seventieth streets and Breadway.

The letters, which are badly written, both as to orthography and chirography, purport to come from one James Hamilton, who has been living at various Bowery lodging-

Hamilton was arrested and arraigned this morning before Magistrate Zoller in the West Side Police Court. The prisoner was committed to Bellevue Hospital to have his sanity tested.

Doctor Love went to Paris as physician to Mrs. George Law, on whom he had performed an operation for appendicitis. He died suddenly of apoplexy on the Aurania on his return trip. Hamilton, in his letters and in his talks with the police, declares that he is the husband of Mrs. Law. He asserts that Doctor Love performer an operation for appendicitis on Mrs. Law without his consent, and declares that, Doctor Love being dead, he will seek out his son and wreak his vengeance on him. The letters to Mrs. Love are so rambling that it was difficult for the police to de-termine their meaning. The first, dated the day that Doctor Love died, and addressed to him, ran as follows: "Doctor Love, you did not no that I was married to Mary Rooney, and it is the 6th hunder miles Brooklyn, lookin' for her. I will prove by the party and her name is Miss Marrisson, in Brooklyn. My name is Joseph James Hamilton. If you can bring the Marrig I will bring mine into court."

The last letter received by Mrs. Love was dated last Tuesday. It said, in part: "I write to a few lines to ask you to be it your house at Saturday night, I am the husband of Mrs. Law George Love of Long Island. I make things hot for what your father did. I will make it so warm for somebody in that hospital. Your father did ask my permission nor did he ask my wife Your father kept my wife away two months and a half."

Hamilton then went on to say in an incoherent manner that he had $57,000 in a bank in England, and that he would spend The house at No. 127 Poplar street is oc- every cent of it to make it warm for "somebody."

Mrs. Love reported the matter to Captain Gear of the West Sixty-eighth Street Police Station, and Detective Culhane was sent cut to investigate.

Culhane went down to No. 3 James street the only address the writer of the letter had given. The detective learned that Hamilton had slept at a lodging-house at No. 3 James street, but was put out several nights before. BOOMS HEARST FOR PRESIDENT.

Max Ihmsen of New York Says Newspaper Proprietor Would Accept Nomination.

TRUSTS WILL BE THE ISSUE.

Mention of New Yorker's Name a Iowa Democratic Convention Greeted With Cheers-Friend of Laborer.

Max Ihmsen, formerly of the New York Journal, is in St. Louis in the course of a tour through the Middle West, R. Hearst's beem for presidential candidate of the Democratic party in 1994.

He came to St. Louis direct from Des Moines, Ia., where he attended the Demoratic Convention, which nominated J. B. Sullivan for Governor. Iowa politicians who attended that convention, he says, appeared to think highly of Mr. Hearst as presidential timber, and cheered loudly when his name was mentioned, casually, in the course of the convention. Mr. Ihmsen believes that the Democratic candidate to be successful must be a "reguar." That is, he must have supported the Democratic ticket in 1895 and 1996. The paramount issue, he believes, will be the trusts. The money question will not cut much figure, because even the stanch supporters of Bryan do not believe it is expedient at this

Asked if Mr. Hearst had declared his candidacy for the nomination, Mr. Ihmsen said he had not. He added, however, that in an interview Mr. Hearst had said he would be willing to receive "any promotion which he might merit."

Since his arrival in St. Louis Mr. Ihmsen has met Circuit Atterney Folk, David R. Francis, Henry W. Steinbiss, general secretary of the Building Trades Council of America; Senator W. J. Stone and Walter B. Stevens, Secretary of the World's Fair. His visits with these gentlemen, he said, had no political significance.

"I find," said Mr. Ihmsen, "that the talk in favor of Mr. Hearst's candidacy is continually growing. Many other candidates are spoken of, among whom are D. R. Francis, Jeseph W. Folk, W. J. Stone of Missouri, Olney of Massachusetts, Gorman of Maryland, Judson Harmon of Ohio, T. L. Johnson of Ohio, Carter Harrison of Chicago, and from New York E. M. Shepard, David B. Hill, A. B. a majority of 1,600." Mr. Ihmsen will depart for the East today. He is secretary of the National Assoclation of Democratic Clubs, of which Mr.

Hearst is president. At the first semiannual election of the First Hearst Club of Missouri, at Druid's Hall last night, the following officers were elected: C. H. Fauntleroy, president; Joseph T. Nettler, M. E. Murrey, Phil Horan, J. E. Dwyer, W. S. Paris and George T. Harvey, vice presidents; C. P. Stearns, secretary; C. J. Maurer, treasurer, and Van W. Wilkerson, sergeant-at-arms. The next meeting of the club will be held July II.
